

Lifelong kindergarten approach

The mission of the Resnick's Lifelong Kindergarten research group is „to extend the kindergarten approach to learners of all ages (including the elementary school students too). To do that we are cultivate caring community that, in the spirit of kindergarten, engage young people in creative learning experiences, so they have opportunities to think creatively, engage empathically, and work collaboratively” The principle of the „kindergarten learning model” called as 4P’s of creative learning: project, passion, peers and play.

To what extent could you identify the following characteristics during the game?

The criteria	none	moderate/ medium	extremely
1. Learn and be developed through play
2. Doing, exploring, experimenting
3. Player's interests driven
4. Put the children to the “driver’s seat”
5. Ensure the collaboration
6. Climate for open discussion, creative thinking, learning from mistakes, safe environment to meet and deal with failure.
7. Different active learning methods and wide variety of learning activities
8. Focus on playing and fun not teaching and performance
9. Create a flow feeling for the you.			